NEW ANXIETY ARISES IN CZECH CAPITAL

FEELING THAT SITUATION HAS TAKEN UNFAVOURABLE TURN

Whether Door To Negotiations Remain Open Depends Entirely On Attitude Of Herr Hitler

Prague, September 2. FEELING IS RIFE HERE THIS MORNING that the situation has taken an unfavourable turn as the centre of gravity has suddenly shifted from Prague to Berchtesgaden.

It is not believed that the Sudeten reply to President Benes' proposals will amount to a refusal, but whether the door for negotiations will remain open depends entirely on Hitler's attitude.

Herr Henlein's interview with the German Chancellor is expected to take place some time today.

Despite the authorities' care, further incidents have occurred in the Sudeten regions, pointing to an increase of local tension.

The official agency admits that a brawl near Freudenthal involving Czech soldiers and Sudeteners looked ugly at one time but did not end with serious consequences.

The Sudeten organ Die Zeit was confiscated last night for the second time within 48 hours and the sixth time within a month.

The offending paragraph of the article, which dealt with poverty in the Sudeten region of Eger, repeated the allegation that some people were eating cats and dogs.

Censorship measures have greatly irritated the Sudeten Germans. — (Reuters)

"SPITFIRE" INFLUENCE OF GOEBBELS

Berlin, Sept. 2. The interview between Herr Henlein and the Fuehrer is awaited in an atmosphere of tension and expectancy.

Many hope that Hitler may himself take the lead in the European negotiations for a settlement of the Sudeten problem.

Others fear, however, that the "spitfire" influence of Goebbels and Ribbentrop will produce a stiffening of reaction.

Should Hitler be strong enough to make his view prevail, it is thought in some circles conversant with the Fuehrer's views that Henlein will give moderating counsel to the Sudeten. — (Reuters)

Yellow River Front Lull

Tungkwai, September 2. Owing to torrential rain, a lull prevailed along the Yellow River here all day yesterday with both the Chinese and Japanese forces still pitted against each other across the stream.

It is learned that the greater part of Japanese troops in Fenglingtu, opposite here, have been withdrawn to Tsiolutsun and Liuhotsun to the north, leaving only a handful of men at Fenglingtu.

Competent military observers here believe the Japanese crossing to the south bank of the Yellow River at this time is unlikely as their forces now in Shansi are insufficient for the adventure.

Unless they can obtain reinforcements, the Japanese will not venture to cross the stream for the time being. Their present operations along the Yellow River are only a threat designed to divert the strength of the Chinese forces. — (Central News)

KAIFENG SURROUNDED BY CHINESE

Chengchow, Sept. 2. Kaifeng, strategic city 64 kilometres east of here on the Lunghai Railway is surrounded by Chinese forces which launched an offensive there on August 31.

A furious gun duel between the opposing forces raged all day yesterday.

Cut off from retreat, the Japanese in Kaifeng, numbering over 1,000, are in a desperate position. — (Central News)

Residence Of Grand Mufti Searched

Cairo, Sept. 2. The Residence of the Grand Mufti of Jerusalem in Beirut was thoroughly searched by French police officials today, according to reports received from that town.

It is stated that the action was carried out at the request of the British authorities in Palestine who had reason to suspect that his residence was the headquarters of the Arab guerrilla campaign which has been causing so much unrest in Palestine.

The search is believed to have revealed nothing. — (Transocean)

If War Comes, It Will Be Because Herr Hitler Deliberately Willed It

Paris, September 2. Herr Hitler's paramount role in the international situation was lengthily discussed in this morning's papers.

M. Blum, former French Premier, writing in Le Populaire, declares that if war comes it will be because Hitler deliberately willed it against the peace efforts of the democracies.

GERMANY AND HUNGARY

London, Sept. 2. The Hungarian Premier, Dr. Imredy, in an interview with the correspondent of the Daily Telegraph, refutes rumours that the German-Hungarian Pact had been concluded on the occasion of the visit of the Regent, Admiral Horthy, to Germany, or that the Berlin-Rome axis had been extended to Budapest.

Asked about the attitude of the Hungarian Government in case of war Dr. Imredy declared that Hungary would remain neutral. Although Hungary was maintaining the best commercial relations with Germany this did not mean political fraternization.

Concluding, the Hungarian Premier expressed the hope that the negotiations between the Czechs and Sudeten Germans will help also the Hungarians in Czechoslovakia to autonomy. — (Transocean)

Hitler will have had willed in tenaciously and implacably without reason, excuse or pretext even of saving his face, for he has already won his cause as far as there is a bluff, has already succeeded.

Another paper says that, according to foreign circles, Herr Henlein left his reply to the Czech Government's latest proposals in Prague before leaving for Germany and that it is not negative but admitting further negotiation. — (Reuters Bulletin)

PARIS SPECULATION

Paris, Sept. 2. Speculations about the outcome of the Berchtesgaden conference between Chancellor Hitler and the Sudeten German leader, Herr Konrad Henlein, dominated the French press this morning.

The papers state that following the establishment of cantonal constitution, several future cantons would be completely German. French quarters express the hope that the decision reached at Berchtesgaden will not be negative. — (Transocean)

Japanese Plans To Oust American And Other Trade From China

U.S. Nationals' Urgent Appeal To State Department

RESTORATION TO S.M.C. OF FULL AUTHORITY INSISTED

Shanghai, September 2. An urgent appeal to the U.S. State Department and also various other American institutions was telegraphed from Shanghai today by the U.S. Chamber of Commerce and 10 American mission organisations representing American persons and interests in China.

The telegram says that Americans in Shanghai are alarmed by the steady progress to realisation of the Japanese plans to oust American and other trade from China by means of monopolies, trade and travel restrictions in North China and the crippling of most of the important lines of American trade there.

The message continues to express the conviction that the present is the time for America to take a firm stand and insist on the following points:—

1. Restoration to the Shanghai Municipal Council of full authority and control in the International Settlement, including Hongkew and Yangtsepo sections.

SPECIAL EURASIA PLANE ARRIVES IN HANKOW

A special plane of the Eurasia Aviation Corporation left Kai Tak aerodrome for Hankow at one o'clock and arrived there at 5:10 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The plane was piloted by Herr Leiding, says Central News.

This is due to the following reasons:—

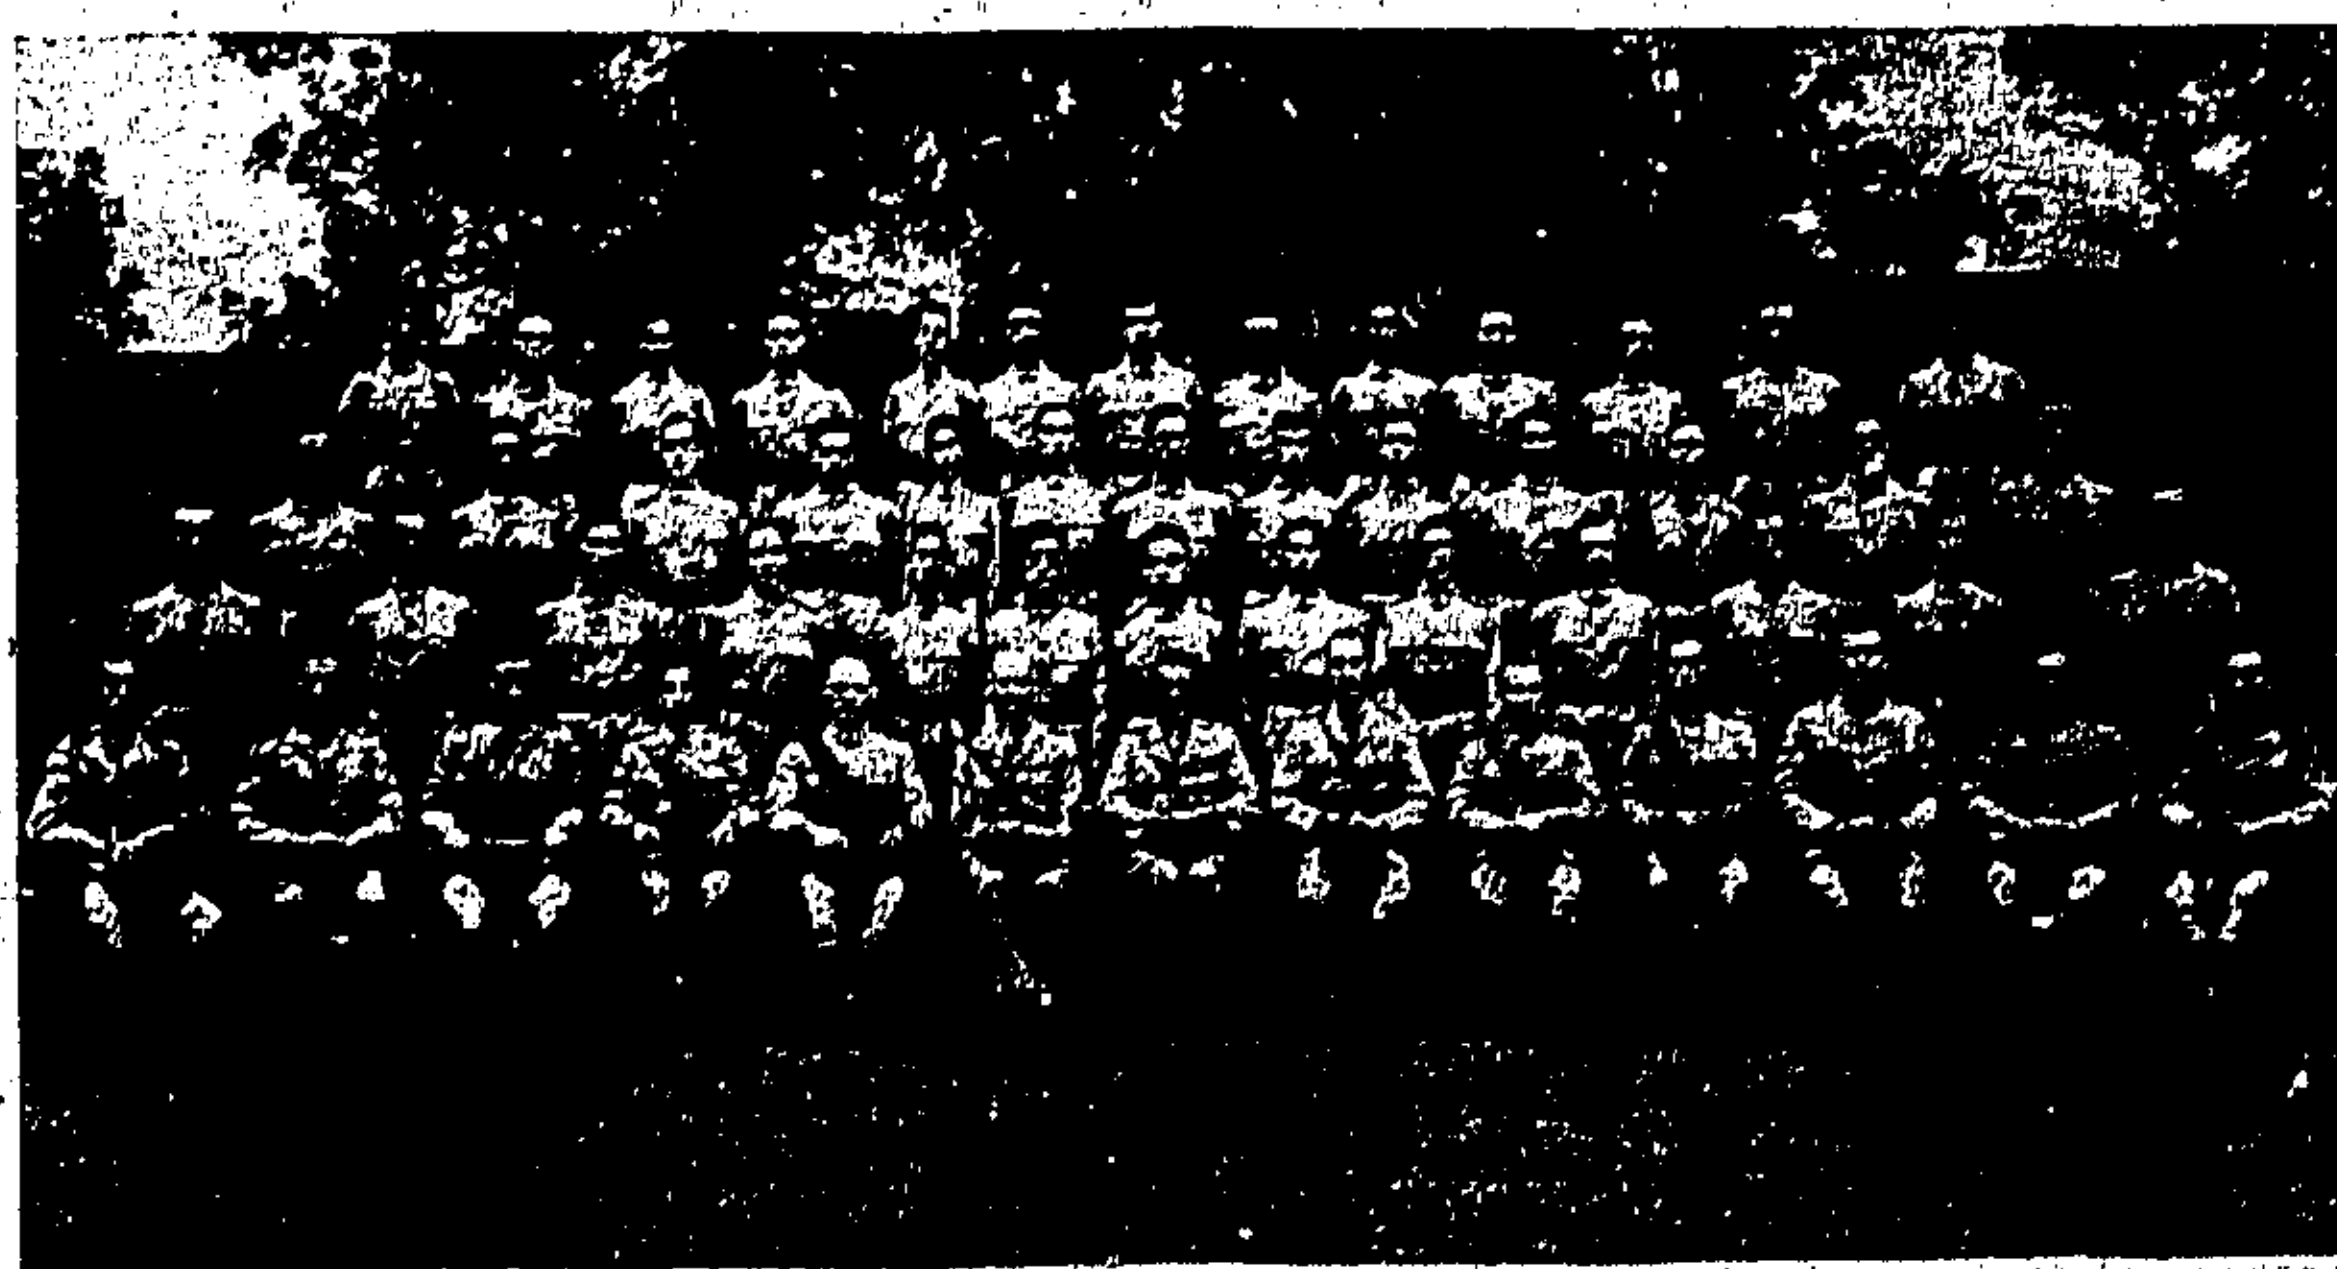

the favourable climatic conditions of Kwangtung, rendering possible three crops a year;

the geographical position of the province and the Colony, being, as they are the gateway to both the East and the West;

the position of Hong Kong as an international shipping and air centre;

Grants To Families Of Two C.N.A.C. Victims

NILE FLOOD DANGER IS NOW OVER

Cairo, Sept. 2. The authorities announced today that the danger of the Nile flood can now be regarded as passed.

There was again a slight fall in the level of the water on Thursday and in the meantime great efforts had been made in strengthening the river banks.

The opening of irrigation basins in upper Egypt appears for the moment to be unnecessary. — (Transocean)

On the instructions of Dr. H.H. Kung, President of the Executive Yuan and Minister of Finance, the members of the Board of Directors of the Bank of Communications meeting in Hong Kong yesterday voted to allow a compassionate grant of $100,000 to the family of the late Mr. Y. Hu and $50,000 to the family of the late Mr. Hsu Singloh.

Mr. Hu was chairman of the Board of the Directors of the Bank of Communications and Mr. Hsu a member of the board. Both were killed while en route on official business to Chungking from Hong Kong on August 24 when the C.N.A.C. plane "Kwailin" was machine-gunned and sunk by Japanese pursuit plane. — (Central News)

FALSE REPORT OF ROBBERYSpent Master's Money

For "misleading a police officer by false information," an accus-
ant, Chung Kwai-kan, aged 29, residing at No. 16 Lee Tung Street, was given four months' hard labour by Mr. Butters at the Central Court yesterday.

Defendant, it was alleged, informed the police that he had been robbed of $172 by three persons on August 1, in an alleged effort to cover the squandering of his master's money.

Sub-Inspector W. N. Darkin, who prosecuted, said that about 5 a.m. on Tuesday, a Chinese constable on patrol in Lee Tung Street was called to No. 16 where he found Chung with a gar hanging around his neck. Chung, on being released, told the constable that he had been robbed of $172 by three men, one of whom was armed with a revolver.

Inspector Darkin investigated the case, and his results showed that it was impossible for any person to get at the drawer in which the allegedly stolen money had been kept without disturbing the other three occupants in the floor.

After questioning, Chung admitted that his report of the robbery was false, and that his master's money had been spent by himself in taking a girl out to entertainment and dinners.

Before Mr. Barnett at the Kowloon Court yesterday Cheung Tak, 33-year-old earth coolie, was committed to stand his trial at the next Criminal Sessions on a charge of wounding Mrs. Lily Lafleur with intent to do her grievous bodily harm.

It will be recalled that on the morning of July 5, at New Kowloon Inland Lot 63, two men had attacked Mrs. Lafleur in her sitting-room, one of them stabbing her in the abdomen.

Dr. G. H. Henry, of the Kowloon
Hospital, stated that he treated Mrs. Lafleur for her injuries on July 5. The wound in her abdomen had been caused by a glancing blow. A moderately violent blow would have pierced the peritoneal cavity, possibly the liver, and endanger the life of the patient.

Dr. H. T. Bee, of the Kowloon Hospital, stated that on July 5 he treated Cheung Tak for two wounds, a laceration on the back of the right hand and a puncture wound on the right forearm. The latter wound had later become septic and the patient had only been discharged from the hospital on August 2.

Hung Ling-fong, amah, related how she heard a strangled groan coming from the direction of the sitting room. Looking into the room of the gardener, another of the four servants, she saw a man holding him.

"SAVE LIFE"
At that instance another man came out of the house by a sidedoor and took hold of her arm telling her to keep quiet. She had called out "save life" and, at the same time, Mrs. Lafleur had run out of the house. The man let go of her and attempted to stop Mrs.
Lafleur.

While showing to defendant the garment that he is alleged to have worn on the day of the assault the Court interpreter, in pointing but to him that button number 4 on the garment had been sewn on with brown thread whereas all the other buttons were sewn on with white thread, accidentally pulled out the thread.

This piece of thread is now exhibit "H" and the interpreter may have to testify at the coming trial as to his having pulled out the thread from the garment.

Lau Ying, 19, and Li Ping, 17, newsboys, were each fined $10 at the Kowloon Court yesterday by Mr. Macfadyen when they appeared on a charge of having collected money for charity without a permit from the Commissioner of Police.

The two newsboys had been collecting money on behalf of the Newspaper Peddlers' Relief Association.

Mr. L. H. C. Calthrop, Divisional
Superintendent of Police, Kowloon, prosecuting, stated that he was quite satisfied that the money collected was employed for a lawful purpose. Had the money been collected for an unlawful purpose, all defendants would have been charged with obtaining money by false pretences.

Twelve other newspaper sellers,
including four boys and four girls under sixteen years of age, appeared before Mr. Barnett on a similar charge. The four adults were each fined $3.

Mr. Calthrop said that he would welcome a warning through the press to the effect that a very severe view would be taken of a recurrence of this type of offence.

CATHOLIC NEWS AND NOTES

A SAINT OF THE SLAVE TRADE

St. Peter Claver, whose feast occurs next Friday, deserves to be remembered as a man who led one of the most heroic lives that history records. For forty years he devoted himself to the assistance of negro slaves brought from Africa to South America. He spent all these years in Cartagena, in Colombia, then an important centre of the slave trade. The negroes were packed in the holds of the slave ships; many died on every journey and many others arrived dying.

St. Peter Claver hurried to each ship as it arrived, giving spiritual and bodily ministrations to the unfortunate men who were naturally filled with hate for their cruel masters. The saint's charitable work was done in the face of considerable opposition from the slave traders who had no feelings of humanity for the negroes and did not want any attention called to the conditions in which they were brought from Africa. Several efforts were made to compel St. Peter to desist, but he persevered, and is said to have baptised more than 300,000 negroes.

The story of his life has been well told in a book by Arnold Lunn published a few years ago under the title "A Saint of the Slave Trade."

THE CHURCH AND SLAVERY

All people now agree that slavery was the most disgraceful thing that ever afflicted civilisation, and while history shows that it was the growth of Christianity which was responsible for its abolition, some wonder that it took so many centuries after the foundation of Christianity to bring it to an end. From the beginning the Church tried to get slaves freed, but the custom of slavery was as much a part of the social system then as the system of wages and employment is now. Even when an individual wished to release his slaves it was often difficult to do so for they had no means of livelihood and no one would support them.

A wealthy young Roman woman, Melania, now honoured as a saint, decided to give her life to work for God and set about releasing her slaves, but as her family had many estates, the slaves numbered many hundred thousand and it took several years before she could have them all set free.

Cruelty towards slaves seems to have been more common in later years than it was in Rome in early Christian times, and many Catholic missionaries had their lives threatened because they spoke against the heartless slave owners who treated the negroes worse than cattle.

MICHAEL BURT

In February of last year a novel named "Hill Quest" made its appearance, and it set people making inquiries about Michael Burt, its author. Many, however, were already familiar with his name as the author of an extremely witty series of imaginary correspondence in which a Catholic army chaplain in India was the victim of numberless official misunderstandings.

It was quite clear from internal evidence that he was a Catholic and familiar with Indian army life. He was in fact a Captain in the Indian Army before his retirement in 1931. He had been through several frontier wars and was mentioned in dispatches. Later he did what he calls "a spot of intelligence work in the Punjab and up towards Tibet."

There is therefore probably something of his own personal experience in his latest novel, "Secret Orchards" which deals with India and secret service.

L'AVVENIRE

Within the last few months occasional quotations in the press from the Italian paper L'Avvenire have aroused inquiries about the paper, for the name is not a familiar one. In that form the title is new, but was known for a long time in Bologna as L'Avvenire d'Italia, a Catholic daily with a national reputation. It was on its transference to Rome that it adopted the briefer title. Strange as it may seem, it is the only Catholic daily published in Rome as apart from the Vatican City, which has the Osservatore Romano.

Some years ago the Corriere d'Italia, a Catholic paper, used to be published in Rome, but it died. L'Avvenire, which appropriately means "The Future," is a paper of a very different type to the Corriere d'Italia for, as contrasted, one represents the new tradition of Catholic journalism and the other the old. The present paper has a vigorous, well-defined policy which wins respect, and in its editing and presentation of news it ranks high among Roman papers.

METHODISTS AND MARRIAGE

Divided View On A Declaration

The Methodist Conference, at its final session at Hull recently, decided to refer back to committee for further consideration and report to the next conference a 16-page declaration on the "Christian View of Marriage and the Family."

The declaration was placed before the conference by the Temperance and Social Welfare Department. Explaining it, the Rev. E. C. Urwin, London, secretary of the department, said it was the work of 18 people for over two years.

"The immediate future of marriage is not easy to foretell," said Mr. Urwin. "There are new tendencies at work; new standards; a claim to sexual freedom that is positively revolting in some quarters."

"There is a new frankness which may not easily be put on one side, which wants to be guided in the right way, and a new interest in sex which, while it is healthy at first, may easily become an obsession and an influence in the wrong way."

There was a call to Methodism to stand on its own, and declare its convictions with courage before the world. They had decided that they must start with a positive view on what marriage implied.

"That is why we have declared that sex itself is not to be regarded as an evil thing, but a gift of God," he continued.

"There are far too many unhappy marriages, and one of the reasons for them is that they are taken wrongly. People have inadequate knowledge sometimes with low ideals, and are altogether unprepared for that adjustment of personality which marriage must inevitably involve. That is why we have laid so much stress upon elementary school education."

BIRTH CONTROL If they had said nothing about birth control they would have taken the coward's way, what in effect they had said was that outside of marriage, contraception was wrong. The judgment of the Roman Church was that it was also wrong within marriage.

But there were certain considerations which might make it legitimate to the Christian conscience—those considerations being physical and mental health, and the spiritual relationship of men and women within marriage.

The Rev. C. Ennor Walters, London, said: "I do not hesitate to

CHRISTIAN SERVICE LESSON SERMON

SUBJECT: MAN

The subject of the Lesson Sermon in all Christian Science churches tomorrow, September 4 will be "Man."

The Golden Text will be "Blessed are they that dwell in thy house: they will be still praising thee... O Lord of hosts, blessed is the man that trusteth in thee." (Ps. 84.12).

Among others the following citations will be read from the Bible "My voice shall thou hear in the morning, O Lord, in the morning will I direct my prayer unto thee and will look up. For thou art not a God that hath pleasure in wickedness; neither shall evil dwell with thee. Blessed is the man that feareth the Lord, that delighteth greatly in his commandments. Wealth and riches shall be in his house; and his righteousness endureth forever." (Ps. 5.3.4. 112. 1.3).

The following citations will also be read from the Christian Science Textbook "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy "A wicked mortal is not the idea of God. He is little else than the expression of error. To suppose that sin, lust, hatred, envy, hypocrisy, revenge have life abiding in them is a terrible mistake. Life and Life's idea, Truth and Truth's idea, never make men sick, sinful or mortal. The sinless joy—the perfect harmony and immortality of Life, possessing unlimited divine beauty and goodness without a single bodily pleasure or pain—constitutes the only veritable, indestructible man, whose being is spiritual." (Ps. 289. 76.)

Future Of Palestine Crown Colony As Solution?

It is true to say about Palestine, that the policy of partition is repugnant to Jew and Arab. But it is not true to say that it is the only policy which offers an escape from the present situation, writes a Home correspondent.

There is another solution—that Palestine should be converted into a Crown Colony, as was suggested to the Peel Commission by the Palestine Crown Colony Association.

The adoption of that proposal has a number of advantages which are not available in the partition or any alternative scheme proposed, such as cantons. These advantages include:

- (1) A common nationality and a common loyalty to the Crown.
- (2) Whatever the number of Jews in the country, there will not be any political domination.
- (3) The country will not be divided up, and there will be more room for Jewish immigration and development. (In this connection, it should be noted that the aim of Zionism was not the creation of a Jewish state but to contribute to the solution of the Jewish problem by creating a home for millions of Jewish refugees from countries of oppression.)

(4) The Holy Places will remain under British protection.

(5) In time of war or international unrest, the peoples will have the surer protection of the strong British Commonwealth of Nations rather than the doubtful security of the weak League of Nations.

(6) Peace and prosperity. Palestine is of strategic importance to the Empire, and there is no reason why the peoples of this country should be worse off than those of, say, Cyprus and Kenya.

Flaming Torch Over Canada

Fascists in Canada have united themselves in a new Dominion-wide organisation to be known as the National Unity Party of Canada.

The party was formed at a national convention at which a Montreal newspaper editor, Mr. Adrien Arcand, was unanimously chosen National leader. Mr. Joseph C. Farr, leader of fascists in Ontario, was named national organiser.

Mr. Arcand has issued a manifesto declaring that the National Unity Party intends to set up a corporate state and has amplified this by stating that his party intends to achieve its aims by constitutional means and will eventually seek a majority of House of Commons seats.

At their first mass meeting in Toronto, Mr. Arcand told his followers that their party was "the most unwanted child in the history of Canadian politics." He constantly referred to them all as "nationalists" rather than "fascists."

The swastika emblem of the various Fascist groups which have merged into the National Unity Party has been replaced by the flaming torch, he said, "because our enemies call us Nazis."

The new party leader maintained that the party stood for loyalty to King, country and Christianity. He shouted that their slogan would be "Canada for Canadians!"

LOVE UNDER FIRE

"Love Under Fire" which opens at the Alhambra Theatre today, stars the beautiful Loretta Young and the dashing Don Ameche in a rapid moving tale of romance, intrigue and mad adventure.

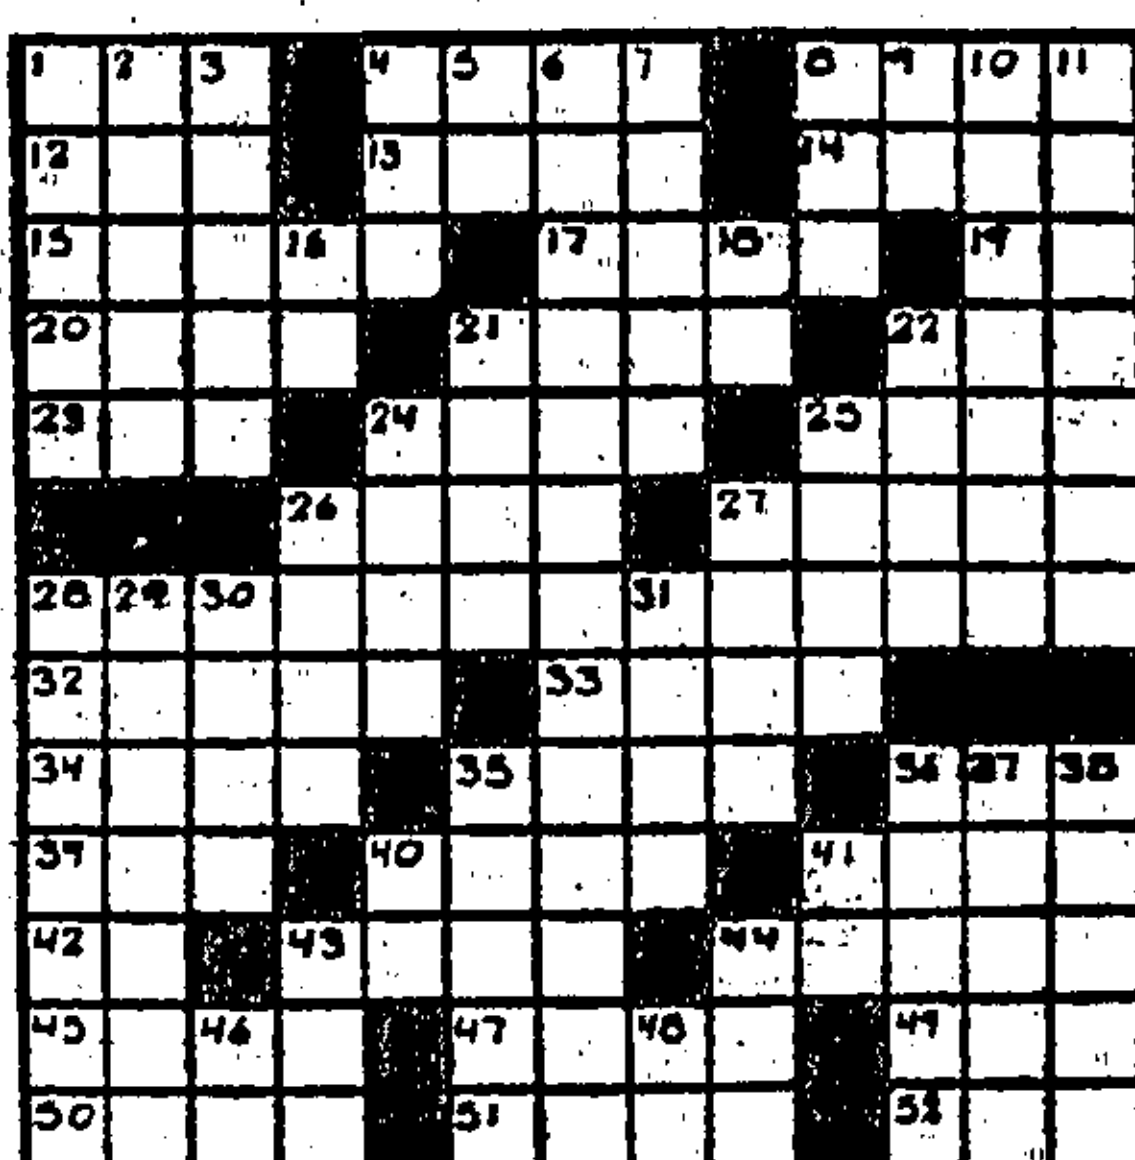

Loretta is seen as a girl fleeing from a crime she has never committed. Pursuing her amid the terrors and uncertainties of war, Don Ameche, as a representative of Scotland Yard, becomes enamoured.

The picture presents the famous Borrah Minevitch harmonica band. The ex-newsboy musician and his players have already appeared with great success in "One and a Million," and their return is pleasant news for fans.

U.S. FORMS ATLANTIC SQUADRON

Ships Recently Built

Washington, Sept. 2. The formation of a temporary Atlantic squadron of 14 warships by the United States Navy was officially announced yesterday.

The announcement says that it was wholly unexpected that the fleet should have been concentrated in the Pacific since the Sino-Japanese crisis of 1931-32.

The Atlantic squadron will consist of seven 10,000-ton cruisers and seven destroyers under the command of Rear Admiral Forde Todd.

The decision caused immediate speculation as to whether it was connected with the German-Czech crisis.

1939 MANOEUVRES

The Navy Department, however, announced that the squadron was being formed for next year's manoeuvres, which involve the defence of the Panama Canal.

The new squadron will remain in the Atlantic at least until Spring, when the entire fleet will visit the eastern seaboard after the manoeuvres.

All vessels of the new squadron were recently completed in various Atlantic Coast shipyards, and five are so new that they are still on "shakedown" cruises.—(Reuter).

Deliberate Murder Of Civilians

REPORT ON SPAIN BOMBINGS NOW ISSUED

London, Sept. 2. The report of the Commission of Investigation into air raids in Spain has just been issued.

It deals with some 50 raids and states that, of 46 raids on Alicante, at least 41 were attempts to hit the port area or the railway station.

Of six raids on the city, two were deliberate attacks on a civilian area.

Alicante contains no munition works or factories, practically no troops, and no stocks of war materials, and at the time of the Commission's visit importations into the port were only coal and food.

A raid on Barcelona on August 19, when 24 civilians were killed and 80 were wounded, was either a deliberate attack on civilians or bad aim by an unskilled squadron.

RAID ON REFUGEES

Dealing with a raid on August 8 on sites which were sheltering 3,000 refugee children and 400 wounded soldiers in hospital, the Commission states that the bombs were dropped on a civilian area.

The low altitude and good weather conditions attending an attack on Torre Vieja on August 25 left no doubt but that it was a deliberate attack on a defenceless civil population.—(Reuter).

ITALY MOVES AGAINST FOREIGN JEWS

Rome, Sept. 2. Under a new decree announced by the Council of Ministers yesterday, foreign Jews are debarred from fixed residence in Italy and Italian possessions.

Grant of Italian nationality made to foreign Jews since January 1919 is revoked. These Jews must leave the country within six months or will be expelled.

MORE BABIES WANTED

As a move to increase the birth rate, the Italian Cabinet has decided that all state employees must marry if they desire promotion.

Women can occupy only 10 per cent of available state jobs, according to another new decision.—(Reuter).

LORD RUNCIMAN SENDS MESSAGE TO FUEHRER

Berlin, September 2. Herr Henlein, leader of the Sudeten German Party, arrived at Berchtesgaden yesterday by motor-car and drove straight to Herr Hitler's house, where he had a three-hour conference with Herr Hitler, General Goering, and Herr Rudolf Hess.

The report of the meeting in Berchtesgaden has encouraged the hope that the dispute may be taking a turn towards settlement.

It is understood that the British Ambassador, Sir Neville Henderson, has no special message for the German Government and it is therefore regarded as improbable that any important conversations will be held between him and Herr Joachim von Ribbentrop, the German Foreign Minister, until it is possible to pronounce on the new Czech proposal. This will necessitate mature study before any considered opinion can be given.

Meanwhile, public opinion seems to be in a quieter and more receptive mood.—(Reuter).

INSPIRED COMMUNIQUE

Berlin, Sept. 2. A communique, apparently inspired by the Ministry for Propaganda and issued through the semi-official German News Agency, denied that Herr Hitler has seen the Sudeten leader, Herr Henlein.

The communique declares that Herr Henlein arrived at Berchtesgaden and put up at a local hotel, and will visit Herr Hitler today.

It appears that Herr Henlein was at Herr Hitler's residence, but apparently did not attend the consultations between Herr Hitler, General Goering, Herr Hess and Dr. Goebbels.—(Reuter).

MESSAGE TO HITLER

Prague, Sept. 2. It is understood that Lord Runciman sent a special message to Herr Hitler through Herr Henlein, stressing the need for a continuance of peaceful negotiations.

It is believed that this, coming on the eve of the Nuremberg Nazi Congress may have a favourable effect.—(Reuter).

SUDETEN DECISION

SPANISH PLAN TO SUSPEND EXECUTIONS

Barcelona, Sept. 2. The offer to suspend execution of death sentences for crimes committed before September 1, provided the Nationalists do likewise, is made by the Republican Government in a note to the British Commission for the Exchange of Prisoners.

The note also proposes the suspension of executions throughout September.—(Reuter).

DEATH OF FIREMAN FOLLOWING ALARM PRACTICE

Jury's Verdict And Rider At Central Court Inquest

Circumstances surrounding the death of a fireman, named Mo Ping, of the Central Fire Brigade Station, at the conclusion of an alarm practice, were probed yesterday at the Central Court, when an inquest was held.

Mr. Edwards sat as Coroner, assisted by a jury comprising Messrs. T. A. Johnston (Foreman), K. F. Yuen and A. E. Abong, Jr.

Dr. T. K. Lien, of the Queen Mary Hospital, who performed the post mortem examination, testified that deceased died of haemorrhage, following rupture of the liver and fractured ribs.

Deceased was admitted to the hospital at 9.10 p.m. on July 27. He was in a conscious condition, but breathing was difficult. The right chest wall was deformed owing to the fracture of seven ribs. Deceased died at 12.25 a.m. the next morning.

Mr. W. McI. Smith, Deputy Superintendent of the Fire Brigade, in evidence, said that the Brigade was called out to alarm practice once every 48 hours.

Fire appliance No. 14 was sent out to the practice on the night in question. When the appliance had returned to the station after the test, firemen on the vehicle were not allowed to alight until orders were given to them to do so. The person in charge of the appliance had to report to the superior officer and he would then return and dismiss the crew. After the dismissal of the crew, the appliance returned to the station.

ALL ON ENGINE
Mak Hung, another fireman who was also detailed to the alarm practice on appliance No. 14, said he was standing just in front of deceased when the accident occurred.

They were all on the fire engine and were not given orders to alight, the officer in charge having just gone to make a report to the European officer in the station.

When the officer, who was in charge of the appliance had alighted, the engine started to move forward to get enough room to reverse. When the engine had started, deceased hesitated as to whether he would alight or remain on the appliance, and by so doing he fell face downward onto a piece of wood projecting from the mudguard.

Witness immediately shouted to the driver to stop and jumped off to attend to deceased.

DRIVER'S EVIDENCE

Wan Muk, driver of the appliance, said that he did not stop dead the appliance when the officer in charge was alighting. He was travelling at a speed of about three to four miles per hour. It was the constant practice for the appliance not to remain absolutely stationary and, to his knowledge, no one had met with any accident while jumping off a moving appliance under these circumstances.

Chan Wong who was the officer in charge of the appliance during the alarm practice in question, testified that the vehicle did stop completely when he jumped off to make a report to his superior officer. He did not witness the accident as he was on the point of making his report.

After further evidence was given, the jury returned a verdict of accidental death, and added a rider that the driver of the appliance should stop the vehicle dead to let a fireman alight.

SOCIAL SERVICE CENTRE

Work Disclosed In Report

The first report of the Social Service Centre of the Churches, just issued, says:—

A Central office (Room 301, No. 6 Queen's Road Central) has been established where individual cases are investigated and detailed records kept so that there may be a measure of co-ordination between the many other social agencies already at work in the Colony.

Already there has been splendid co-operation with a number of Churches, both Chinese and English, and with many schools, institutions, and social service agencies, as well as with a number of Filipinos.

MANY ASSISTED

More than three-quarters of the work being done has been for Chinese, though people of many other nationalities have been helped—French, German, Portuguese, Russians, Japanese, Annamites, and Filipinos.

More recent refugee work was largely determined by present war conditions. Voluntary people have poured into Hong Kong from all war areas, and we have received our fair proportion of them. In this connection we are especially grateful to the Chairman and Secretary of the Tung Wah Hospital, who have given us most generously of their time and help. This Hospital has given shelter to many of our cases and close upon 200, the majority of whom would otherwise have become a public charge on the community, have been assisted to return to their homes.

UNEMPLOYED

On the local side of our work we are dealing with a growing number of unemployed who receive from us temporary aid in the form of food, clothing, shelter and cash relief according to their needs. Whenever possible we try to re-establish them by finding them employment, but unfortunately we have only been able to do this for about 25 per cent.

Though local relief and refugee work is now specially occupying our time, it is hoped that our work will develop along lines which are preventive rather than remedial. We hope gradually to become an instrument which can tackle some of the more fundamental problems of employment, housing, etc. This will involve much more study of local conditions, and the reforms needed can only be brought about by a united effort of the Churches.

FINANCIAL REPORT

The necessary funds to make the work possible have come from Churches, Schools, and not a few individual friends in the Colony and abroad. The number of persons helped in the coming year will largely depend on the donations which the Committee receives.

The following is the financial statement for the 14 months ending July 4, 1938:—

RECORD MAIL CARRIED BY DELPHINUS

The Delphinus, inaugurating the all-up air mail scheme, left Kai Tak yesterday morning, carrying 962 pounds of mail.

This amount exceeds even the heaviest Christmas or Easter mails ever to have left Hong Kong by plane. Incidentally, the amount was just twice the amount of usual mail carried before the cheaper rates were introduced.

Owing to a delay on the London-Bangkok Empire air mail route, there was no Home mail delivery in Hong Kong yesterday.

The Imperial Airways' mail plane, which was scheduled to arrive in Hong Kong yesterday afternoon will, it is understood, arrive at 11 a.m. this morning. She left Bangkok at 1 p.m. yesterday but stayed overnight at Hanoi.

JAPANESE
PRESUMPTION

A NOVEL, but highly debatable suggestion for securing lasting international peace—division of the world into three blocs, American, Asiatic and European—was put forward by Mr. Mitsui, one of the Japanese representatives at the Fifth America-Japan Students' Conference in Tokyo recently, when present-day world problems and their solutions were being discussed.

Mr. Mitsui claims to have discovered that the world is divided into blocs having similar racial traits, characteristics, geographical locations and interests. Since this is so, he contends, the world should be divided according to the similarities which exist between the peoples and nations.

For instance, the United States would assume the initiative and leadership of the American bloc, while Japan would take a similar position in Asia.

Europe presents a difficult problem because of the many countries with their divided interests, but Mr. Mitsui is hopeful that his scheme would prove feasible if one of the strong nations assumed the responsibility to take over leadership.

ONCE THE blocs were established, conferences would be held to discuss problems which concerned them. Through co-operation, each bloc would have access to raw materials which it lacked and business could be carried on according to the barter system.

In time, Mr. Mitsui thinks, the various nations would realise the importance of international economics and finance and an agreement satisfactory to all could be reached.

Assuming for the sake of discussion, what claim has Japan to the leadership of Asia? Mr. Mitsui, no doubt, would say that Japan's army and navy are the strongest among all the nations east of Suez—but what of it?

Is the amount of national expenditure on "defence" to be the standard deciding claims to lead the Asiatic bloc? The fact that a gangster spend two-thirds of his income on pistols and ammunition does not necessarily make him the desirable person to assume administrative leadership of his fellow citizens.

Japan's claim to the right of leadership in Asia is based purely upon her military and naval strength. Admittedly it is a strong argument but it is not completely convincing.

PATRIOTIC SALE
MOVEMENTWork Of Fruit
Pedlars

In Hong Kong the Chinese are staging a patriotic sale relief movement. This movement was first sponsored by about 60 fruit pedlars at Shamshuipo, but within one month the movement has spread all over the Colony with donations amounting to over one million dollars, states the Ta Kung Pao in an editorial.

The Ta Kung Pao is assisting the Hong Kong pedlars on September 5 and 6 as it has three reasons for justifying the cause:

(1) The power of mass movement is essential in the building up of the Chinese nation and the repulsing of Japanese aggression, and substantially constitutes a decisive factor of the war and therefore has to be supported whole-heartedly.

(2) Although mass power is cumbersome, yet the leaders behind it are the dynamo. Hence great homage should be paid to the sponsors in the law-abiding manner that it is being conducted.

(3) The present war is not only for China's independence but also for World Peace. This has been fully admitted by many countries the world over. We hope that this kind of mass-conscious movement in China's favour will spread to every corner of the earth in order to comfort and stimulate the vigour of the Chinese fighting forces.

CHINESE SHELL
TRANSPORTS

Kingstchen, Sept. 2. Again effectively harassing Japanese vessels—steaming up and down the Yangtze River, Chinese batteries at Hsiangshan, on the south bank, scored hits on nine transports on Monday. The extent of damage cannot be ascertained. (Central News).

EVEN MR. MITSUI must know that China has a population about nine times that of his own country and he should also know that the events of the past thirteen months have clearly shown that as soldiers the Chinese are, to say the least, as sturdy and courageous as the Japanese.

Competent foreign observers have expressed the highest admiration for the fighting qualities of the Chinese troops and the fact is beyond the question that given similar training and equipment, they are in every way the equal of Japan's forces.

If, then, individually one man is as good as another, leadership of Asia should go to the nation with the most men, and Mr. Mitsui should have told the conference that China is the nation naturally fitted to take the lead of the Asiatic bloc.

Mr. Mitsui knows perfectly well that the only claim to leadership which his country can put forward is based upon brute force. He knows that socio-economic conditions in his country are such that only by waging a victorious war on China can the militarists in Tokyo hope to retain the support of a simple-minded and poverty-stricken people.

He knows that the Chinese are physically and mentally the equals—to put it modestly—of his own people in every respect.

MR. MITSUI and his fellow students are well aware that Japan has achieved and can achieve nothing that China is not capable of achieving if left to work out her own destiny without obstruction and interference from without.

It follows therefore that China and not Japan should take the leadership of the Asiatic bloc. If an arrangement for dividing the world into three reserved areas were adopted—but it so happens that China has no such ambition.

She merely wants and intends to have the right to manage her own people and their affairs in her own way, conceding the right of other Asiatic nations to conduct their domestic affairs as best suits them.

China wants to be allowed to carry on the good work which was started with the Revolution—to give her citizens the rights and privileges of a free and independent people, to establish her position as an equal among the nations of the world and to co-operate with those who seek to establish friendly international relations.

DEATH OF BRO.
MARCIANFormer Director Of
St. Joseph's College

Rev. Brother Marcian-James, Director of St. Joseph's College from January 1921 to February 1922, passed away at the French Hospital at 6.25 p.m. yesterday.

Deceased was born at Enno, Queen's County, Ireland, on August 30, 1868, and was first employed as an Assistant master at the La Salle Training College, Waterford. He came to the East in 1903 and held with great distinction responsible positions in Colombo and Penang before he arrived in Hong Kong.

The year of Brother Marcian's Directorship of St. Joseph's College was marked by great successes, and by his great kindness he easily won the esteem and respect of all his pupils and the old boys of the College.

He was taken seriously ill at Ipoh in July but rallied, and it was thought that a sea trip would do him good. But contrary to expectation, his condition on reaching Hong Kong was so serious that he was taken at once to the French Hospital, and the doctors held out little hope for his recovery.

The funeral will pass the monument at 5.30 p.m. today.

COLONIAL DISPLAYS
AT GLASGOWPopular Appreciation
At The Empire
Exhibition

One of the distinctive features of the Empire Exhibition at Glasgow, the chief spectacular attraction in Britain this summer, is the Colonial Pavilion, which houses displays from all the Colonies not separately represented in other buildings.

Large sections of the 6,000,000 visitors who are estimated to have toured the Exhibition to date have called at the Colonial Pavilion, and must have carried away with them good impressions of the things they have seen and of the commercially virile people whose exhibits they have admired.

Every Colony is represented by a display of its chief products, or products attractively arranged on stands or in glass cases to show them off to the best advantage. Visitors to the Colonial Pavilion linger in the spacious entrance hall to admire the pictorial splendour of the big scenic display which symbolises the commercial relationship of the Colonies to the United Kingdom.

They note the wonderful combination of scenic background, skilful cut outs and models with its stirring appeal to the imagination.

They see the suggestion of mountains, forests, pastures and mines of distant lands, with ships riding the intervening seas bringing to Britain the raw materials of the Colonial Empire for conversion into manufactured goods in the model of the modern workshop in the left foreground, and for sale in the equally fine model departmental stores to the right; and the return freights of manufactured goods of this country.

This exhibit is semi-circular in shape, and runs for over 60 feet across the hall. Immediately in front of it, conforming to the same design, is a chain of glass showcases in which the chief products of all the Colonies are shown in one form or another.

Comments of visitors as they have examined both the scenic and commercial effects have been decidedly complimentary, and similar appreciation has been expressed of Colonial goods seen in other parts of the hall.

It might, therefore, be assumed that the exhibition is a success from the Colonial point of view and should assist all the Colonies in their future trade.

PUPPETS LACK UNITY

Hankow, Sept. 1. News from Shanghai states that difficulty is being experienced in uniting the North and South puppet Governments. Liang Hung-chi is steadily getting more and more disliked by the Japanese.

Due to internal friction, the unification of the North and South puppet governments, contemplated by General Dohara, is being found hard to realise. (Ta Kung Pao).

African Girls Becoming Too
Independent

LITTLE EVIDENCE OF MARRIAGE COERCION

Problems arising from forced marriages of girls in tropical Africa are dealt with in correspondence between the former Secretary for the Colonies, Mr. W. Ormsby-Gore, now Lord Harlech, and officers administering African dependencies, which is published in a White Paper.

The Secretary of State, in a letter sent to relevant administrations, asked whether cases of coercion were frequent, whether women were free to bring such cases to the notice of District Officers, and what action was taken.

The Deputy Governor of Northern Rhodesia, Mr. Charles Dundas, replied to this inquiry: "I am quite satisfied that the present practice is sufficient to prevent serious abuses."

"In fact," he continued, "some anxiety is felt because girls are becoming too independent and are tending to flout the influence which parents may rightly exercise over them."

In the event of force being employed, it was pointed out, the girl would not hesitate to appeal to the Native Authority or, if necessary, to the District Officer.

COERCION IN GAMBIA

The Governor of Gambia, Sir Wilfred Southern, (former Colonial Secretary at Hong Kong), wrote that it could not be denied that cases of coercion did occur in Gambia, but owing to the fact that instances were not always brought to light, it was difficult to estimate the extent of the practice.

"A girl may be betrothed when quite young to a man much older than herself, and when of marriageable age feel nothing but dislike for her intended husband," he stated.

But because all the forces of a patriarchal society, the village elders, the men of the village and her family were against her, he added, she usually withdrew her refusal.

It was the native marriage customs that were usually at fault, he stated. Were legislation introduced the woman might have to suffer social ostracism.

Other replies show that cases of real coercion are infrequent in Sierra Leone, Uganda, the Gold Coast and Kenya.

The Governor of Nyassaland, Sir Harold Kittermaster, pointed out that the native girl in his territory is as independent and as little susceptible to discipline as the young Englishwoman of today.

"Cases of response to parental pressure," he said, "are probably less frequent in Nyassaland than they are in England."

Lord Hewart
And Price
Of Life"Mental Gymnastics"
Needed By Jury

The view that "mental agility and gymnastics" are required by a jury to assess damages for loss of expectation of life was expressed by the Lord Chief Justice, Lord Hewart, directing a jury in the King's Bench Division recently.

Lord Hewart said that before 1834 the law gave a right to dependents of a person killed in an accident to sue the negligent party for damages which would represent the pecuniary loss they suffered from the death of that person.

That Act still existed, but upon it had been superimposed another law, the Law Reform (Miscellaneous Provisions) Act, 1934.

MEANING OF ACT

Lord Hewart explained that, stripping the Act of its legal technicality, it meant that, although a man was dead, there nevertheless remained, not indeed for his own benefit—which was not possible—but for the benefit of his estate, all causes of action vested in him.

Applying that to the cause of an accident the position seemed to be that, at the moment preceding his death, the unfortunate man was of some particular position in life, with some particular outlook and some expectation—or lack of expectation—of life.

"If a man were asked, in cold blood, what he would take to submit to a violent end," said Lord Hewart, "he would say that there was no such sum."

"It is not merely that there is no sum large enough, but that the mind recoils from such a problem. It seems that mental agility and gymnastics are required by a jury to assess that sum, but the question has to be faced."

In this case there was a young man approaching his twenty-second birthday. He was an all-round sportsman, with every prospect of a long life. That prospect had been put to an end, and the loss had to be assessed in terms of pounds sterling.

£2,500 DAMAGES

The jury awarded £2,500 to Mr. Frederick Wakon, of Senhouse Road, Maryport, Cumberland, against Mr. John A. Jacob, of Alderman's Hill, Palmers Green, N. That sum, they held, represented the loss of the estate of the plaintiff's son, Frederick Jordan Wakon, 21, had suffered because of the shortening of the expectation of his life.

He died following a collision on Stags Hill, Enfield, in September 1937, between his bicycle and Mr. Jacob's motor-car.

A stay of execution was granted on condition that the £2,500 was paid into court, and notice of appeal entered.

PERSECUTION OF JEWS ATTACKED
BY METHODIST"Nero A Gentleman
By Comparison"

The Rev. W. Lansell Wardle, of Hartley Theological College, Manchester, after his induction recently as president, at the opening of the annual conference of the Methodist Church at Hull, made "a solemn protest" against the persecution of the Jews.

He said: "I know that in the past history of our own country there have been discreditable happenings of this kind; but when I read of the brutal treatment of the Jews in Europe today my blood boils. The persistent and devilish tortures inflicted on the Jews today are such that beside their instigators even Nero might pass for a gentleman."

Bathing House Raid

Jewels worth £3,000 were stolen recently from a bathing house at Southampton, Long Island, occupied by Mrs. Warner, wife of Major John Warner, Superintendent of the New York State Police.

Major Warner's personal police badge and wallet containing paper dollars to the value of £20 were also stolen.

While Mrs. Warner and a woman guest were bathing, a stranger was seen lurking in the vicinity.

Mrs. Warner's father is Mr. Al Smith, former Governor of New York.

JAPANESE YANGTSE

CHINESE FOLLOWING UP
JUICHANG SUCCESSFighting With Renewed
Confidence And Vigour

Nanchang, September 2.
Elated over the victories west and southwest of Juichang, important town 22 miles west of Kiukiang, Chinese troops on both the north and south banks of the Yangtse River are fighting with renewed vigour and confidence.

Following their successes around Juichang, the Chinese are reported to be pressing on the city in an effort to recapture it. Heavy fighting is raging in the outskirts.

On the north bank of the Yangtse River the Japanese at Hwangmei are counter-attacking with a view to lifting the Chinese siege, but the Chinese are holding them in check. Both sides are throwing in their whole strength in the fight.

Chinese military circles believe the Japanese westward drive from Luan and Hoshan, in west Anhwei. They point out that to enter Hupeh from that direction the Japanese will have to penetrate the Taping Mountains, which form an almost impregnable bulwark on the Hupeh-Anhwei border.

This, they believe, will prove the most difficult task for them since they extended their operations into Anhwei.

FURTHER GAINS BY CHINESE
Further gains by Chinese forces on the Juichang front are reported in military advices.

Synchronising with the victory at Tatsienhsan (Great Pointed Hill), seven kilometres west of Juichang, which was described by the New York Times correspondent as "the biggest Chinese victory after Talerchwang" a crushing defeat was inflicted upon the Japanese troops driving southwestward from Juichang, important city 22 miles west of Kiukiang, on Wednesday.

Crack Chinese reinforcements challenged them in fierce hand-to-hand combat in the hilly districts at Yangpingshan and repulsed them, causing heavy losses.

The original object of this Japanese column was to strike to cut the Nanchang-Kiukiang Railway, thus to protect the rear of their troops at Juichang. With the defeat the Japanese menace to the Nanchang-Kiukiang Railway from that direction has been temporarily removed. (Central News).

STRATEGIC HILLS RETAKEN
Shangcheng, Sept. 2.
Operating in close co-operation, Chinese aircraft and infantry recaptured Kuchukow and Toyunshan, strategic hills lying between Hwangmei and Susung, yesterday morning.

It is said that the Chinese planes effectively bombed and scattered the Japanese troops concentrated there whilst the Chinese infantry men rushed up and decimated them.

Fierce fighting took place also at Tahopu, west of Hwangmei, where the Japanese attempted to repel the Chinese closing in on the city. Casualties on both sides are said to be heavy. (Central News).

JAPANESE START NEW MOVE
Tungki, Anhwei, Sept. 2.
Facing a stalemate on both the north and south banks of the Yangtse, the Japanese are landing troops at Kweichih and Wushancha, on the south bank below Anking, and at Tikang, near Wuhu.

It is reported that no fewer than 5,000 Japanese have since Tuesday landed at Kweichih and Wushancha, 23 kilometres west of Kweichih, under terrific naval barrages. Chinese troops defending the bank have been putting up stiff resistance and heavy reinforcements are rushing up.

Whilst yet uncertain of the real objective of the new Japanese move, competent military observers are of the opinion that the Japanese may be aiming at diverting the strength of the Chinese forces guarding the east shore of Poyang Lake so that they may attack Nanchang more easily. (Central News).

URGENT APPEAL TO U.S. STATE DEPARTMENT

2. Restoration of American homes, institutions, business properties and goods to the rightful owners, with full and free access to use thereof, and full indemnification for losses.

3. Discontinuance of Japanese censorship and interference with mails, telegrams, cables and other means of communication, including the importation of radio equipment.

WHANGPOO DREDGING
4. Immediate return of equipment and resumption of dredging operations in the Whangpoo River and Shanghai harbour in accordance with international agreements.

5. Restoration of the full rights and privileges of trade, travel and residence in the Yangtse Valley, North China and other areas, including the use of railways, shipping and commercial airways and motor highways, with access to markets and mission centres, on the basis of equal opportunity.

6. Due respect for and observance of all American treaty rights.

PRACTICAL MEASURES
"We further urge support for all practical measures to limit the scope of the hostilities in their disastrous effects on civilian communities and prevent the possible ultimate spread of the contagion to other quarters of the world," states the telegram.

Every effort is requested to secure prompt consideration of the points enumerated, the urgent necessity for a firm stand at this time being emphasised as vital for the protection of American interests in the future. (Reuter).

Huge Forest
Fire
In Russia

Believed Ignited
According To Plan
Along Frontier

Stockholm, Sept. 2.
Enormous clouds of smoke from a forest fire in Russia, a few miles beyond the Estonian frontier, are still driving over Finland and Sweden causing everywhere the greatest inconvenience, especially to shipping in the Baltic. It appears certain that the fires have been ignited according to a plan to clear a strip a few miles wide along the whole of the Soviet frontier.

The crew of a Swedish plane which arrived here from Moscow on Thursday, report upwards of one hundred separate forest fires varying in size from one to four square kilometres.

As far as could be seen from the air there is now no possibility of getting the fires under control.

Although the Soviet authorities continue to refuse to make any statement about these fires it has now been established that strips of forest in the neighbourhood of the River Luga and the town of Narva have been deliberately ignited.

It is presumed that the Soviet military authorities are preparing the land for the erection of fortifications along the Estonian frontier. Acres of smoke, smelling of burnt timber, hung like a pall of fog over Stockholm on Thursday although the Swedish capital is 550 kilometres from the seat of the fire. (Transocean).

FORMER CZARIST OFFICERS TO LEAVE CHINA

Hankow, Sept. 2.
Five former Czarist officers—four Russians and a Polish centist—Manjak—after six days' imprisonment were sentenced to leave China within a fortnight and not to return for three years.

The verdict states that the presence of the five men, charged with voluntary activities, was undesirable and dangerous in view of the present serious situation in China.

The five ex-officers were prominent members of the White Russian Colony where the deportation order has caused great consternation. (Transocean).

New Outbreak
Of Disorders
In Palestine

ARAB OFFICIAL KIDNAPPED

Jerusalem, Sept. 2.

A new outbreak of disorders this morning resulted in the death of an Arab police official in Jaffa and the serious wounding of nine Jews through a bomb explosion in a Tel-aviv cafe.

Several Jewish homes were burned in the border-district between Jaffa and Tel-aviv and an Arab was killed near the Damascus gate of Jerusalem.

An Arab official sent to collect a fine of £200 imposed by the mandate authorities was kidnapped near Nazareth and three Arab tax officials, as well as two sons of another Arab district official in the same region, have disappeared.

An extensive search has been instituted by the police aided by troops. The border patrol between Palestine and Syria has been increased. (Transocean).

HANKOW FEELS

High Japanese
Officers Dead
In Air Crash

Tokyo, Sept. 2.
Vice-Admiral Kato and three high officers of the Japanese Navy were killed in an air crash in China, the Ministry of Marine announced today.

Vice-Admiral Kato had made a flight to the front. On his way back the plane crashed owing to engine trouble, 40 kilometres southwest of Anking, in the fighting zone. The dead bodies were recovered by detachments of the Japanese Navy. (Transocean).

20,000 Japanese Casualties

Tungwan, Sept. 2.

Chinese guerrilla activities in Shansi during the last two months have inflicted about 20,000 casualties on the Japanese, a Chinese staff officer informed a Central News correspondent today.

The staff officer said that though the Japanese have been constantly dispatching reinforcements to Shansi, these are at most sufficient to substitute those killed and wounded.

The staff officer ridiculed the so-called Japanese "mopping up" operations in Shansi, instead of "mopping up" the Chinese, the Japanese themselves have sustained heavy losses and have become dead tired running around and fighting the Chinese mobile units. (Central News).

The burying alive of wounded soldiers found at the outskirts of Tientsin was condemned as being inhuman.

The Japanese authorities have asked for instructions from Japan. (Ta Kung Pao).

UNREST AMONG JAPANESE IN TIENTSIN

Hankow, Sept. 1.
On August 27, the Japanese garrison in Tientsin found anti-war bulletins in which was expressed the futility of war against the Chinese.

The Japanese authorities have asked for instructions from Japan. (Ta Kung Pao).

Japanese Bomb
Wuchow

UNIVERSITY AGAIN
ATTACKED

Canton, Sept. 2.
Wuchow, important city in eastern Kwangsi, was again severely bombed by a squadron of 15 Japanese planes this morning.

According to meagre reports just to hand, the Kwangsi University, which had been bombed in an air raid recently, was again attacked this morning. Six bombs are stated to have landed in the campus, causing considerable damage.

The raiders, which took off from a base off the Chungshan coast, reached Wuchow about 10 a.m. and rained more than 30 bombs over the city. The number of casualties has not yet been ascertained but is believed to be heavy. Many houses are demolished.

Earlier in the morning, Nanchang, Lukong and Yuentan, on the Canton-Hankow Railway, were raided by other Japanese bombers. (Central News).

CHEMICAL WORKS BOMBED
Canton, Sept. 2.

The Wuchow Chemical Works, and a knitting plant were bombed by Japanese planes this morning, but the extent of the damage is reported to be very slight.

Another Japanese squadron carried out a routine raid along the Canton-Hankow line and dropped several bombs at Fa Yuen and Pakong. (International).

RUSSO-JAPANESE AGREEMENT

Moscow, Sept. 2.

The Japanese Ambassador in Moscow, Mr. Shigemitsu, had a two-hour conversation with the Soviet Foreign Commissar, M. Litvinoff yesterday, discussing the details regarding the formation of the commission for the settlement of the Russo-Japanese frontier incident at Changkufeng a month ago.

An agreement is said to have been reached between Mr. Shigemitsu and M. Litvinoff so that complete accord may be expected at the next conference. (Transocean).

TENSION UNABATED

Newly-aroused optimism in London suffered a setback when it was authoritatively stated that there was as yet little sign that the tension in Czechoslovakia had abated. At present, after brief negotiations during the last few days, new developments are awaited.

Calm prevailed in Government circles yesterday. Well-informed quarters state that important news is not expected for a day or two. Lord Halifax, however, will remain in London.

From the Czechoslovak Legation here it is learned that the Czech Government hopes that Konrad Henlein will accept the new proposals at least as a basis for negotiations. These proposals have not yet been officially published.

The Star, however, learns that of the cantons proposed in what has become known as the "Hodza Plan" two will be German and in Bohemia, with 700,000 and 800,000 inhabitants respectively, while the third will be in Moravia with about 500,000 inhabitants, so that about 1,500,000 Sudeten Germans would be scattered over Czech and Slovak cantons. (Transocean).

FIGHTING IN WEST ANHWEI

Yinghsan, Hupeh, Sept. 2.

A Japanese column of 1,000 which has crossed to the west bank of the Pei River is being engaged by the Chinese at Kangchilap, whilst another Japanese column is halted at Tushanchen. The latter village has been completely wrecked by Japanese bombardment.

It is alleged that on August 29 and 30 the Japanese fired a number of poison gas shells at the Chinese on the west bank of the river. A Chinese squad was totally wiped out on the latter day. (Central News).

NEW ANXIETY
IN CZECH
CAPITAL

Fuehrer received the leader of the Sudeten Germans, Herr Henlein on Friday at Obersalzberg who, at the wish of Lord Runciman, informed him of the present state of the conference between the German and the Czech Government.

The Fuehrer received the declaration with interest and it was revealed that complete agreement exists in the estimation of the situation.

Henlein was at luncheon the guest of the Fuehrer and left Berghof this afternoon. (Transocean).

POLISH COLLABORATION SOUGHT

London, Sept. 2.

Concerning the lengthy conversations between Lord Halifax and the Polish Charge d'Affaires yesterday it is stated in diplomatic circles that the British Foreign Secretary asked the Polish Government to collaborate in reaching a peaceful and just solution of the Czech problem.

Lord Halifax is said also to have given assurances that the demands of the Polish minorities in Czechoslovakia should receive the same consideration in the new Czech plan as the demands of the Sudeten Germans. (Transocean).

LILLE STRIKE

Lille, Sept. 2.

Tramway and bus employees of Lille went on strike this morning as the result of the dismissal of 37 employees on the grounds of economy. (Reuter Bulletin).

Bohemia, with 700,000 and 800,000 inhabitants respectively, while the third will be in Moravia with about 500,000 inhabitants, so that about 1,500,000 Sudeten Germans would be scattered over Czech and Slovak cantons. (Transocean).

Guerillas Keep Japanese Busy
Round Peiping

Peiping, Sept. 2.

Guerillas kept Japanese troops busy round Peiping last night. A large body first appeared on the Peiping-Tientsin Railway, west of Lanfang, where there was a sharp engagement lasting several hours.

American women and children returning from Peking, seaside resort near Chingwangtao, described how the trains were stopped at Lanfang and lights put out while rifle and machine-gun fire rattled intermittently, the train finally arriving here twelve hours behind schedule.

At 3 a.m. Japanese troops hurriedly rushed out of the north gate of Peiping to a point six miles northward where sharp engagements followed with several hundred guerillas, the result of which was still unknown this evening.

The city remains calm despite audible firing. (Reuter).

GUERRILLA AREA
AROUND LUSHAN

Hankow, Sept. 1.

The Ta Kung Pao correspondent has cabled from Kuling that a visit to the guerillas' area around Lushan showed that the place was as beautiful as ever, but very deserted.

Some of the refugees remain loitering about the streets pursuing daily political reports, hoping to learn some good news.

Tragic scenes could be viewed at the foot of the mountain; the dead bodies of the old and young lay mutilated on both sides of the road.

Scores of young refugees are orphans. The orphan relief organisations are doing their best to cope with the situation.

10,000 RESIDENTS
There were approximately 10,000 residents, among whom were 170 foreigners, mostly British or American.

A British spokesman expressed great joy at our visit, stated the correspondent. "Upon learning of our arrival from Nanchang, he showed sympathy by stating that the missionaries there pray for the victory of China."

All attempts to attack Kuling from Lien Hua Tung and near Shaho have been frustrated by the members of the mobile unit.

BASEBALL NOTES

Today's Big Game

(By R.O.Y.)

In a charity match, sponsored by the National Women's Relief Association, the "Overseas" Chinese will clash with the Chinese Baseball Club, at Caroline Hill this afternoon, for what will be the unofficial Chinese baseball championship of the colony.

Keen rivalry exists between the two clubs, and a keen battle should result. The "Overseas" veterans will go into the game supremely confident, after their decisive defeat of an All Hong Kong team last week, but the local league champions are expected to make positional changes, in order to reserve some of their strength for an important game the next day.

INTERNATIONAL FINAL

The Chinese Baseball Club will go into action again tomorrow at 9.30 a.m., when they represent China in the final round of the International Tournament, against the British Empire.

The Empire representative, are expected to provide stern opposition for the Chinese and another surprise win for them is quite within the bounds of possibility.

CHINESE DINNER

A meeting of the Hong Kong Baseball League was held on Thursday evening, when it was decided to hold a Chinese dinner on September 17, 1938. Mr. H. A. Barros, who was appointed acting Hon. Treasurer, presented a financial report which showed a gratifying balance of some $300 standing to the credit of the League.

LEE WAI-TONG WINS FROM CRAWFORD

Steadiness Too Much For K.C.C. Player

By F. Mela

Lee Wai-tong and Alec Crawford, who shared two sets in the hardcourt tennis championships at the U.S.R.C. two evenings ago, fought it out again yesterday and this time the South China football star won in straight sets, his steadiness proving too much for Crawford who, however, put up a dour struggle in the second set.

Lee won the first set with comparative ease, bringing off a number of crisp volleys in the process. His best asset, however, was his first service which won him a number of points.

TSUIS WIN

The Tsui brothers found Li Kwan-hung and Ma Nai-kwong a much tougher proposition than they imagined and though they won in straight sets, it took them all their time to take the second one which went to 16 games.

The Colony champions played with their usual confidence and though they were hard pressed at times, I could see that Wai-pul had something in reserve and was never fully extended.

THE COUSINS

The Rumjahn cousins, the biggest threats to the Tsuis had some useful practice against K. K. Fung and Wong Fuk-nam. They played good tennis but I do not expect that they will be able to beat the Tsuis especially as Tsui Wai-pul appears to be playing better tennis today than he did when the annual Colony lawn tennis championships were held.

FULL SCORES

Yesterday's results were:—
Tsui Wai-pul and Tsui Wai-pul beat Li Kwan-hung and Ma Nai-kwong, 6-4, 9-7.

H. D. and S. A. Rumjahn beat K. K. Fung and Wong Fuk-nam, 6-4, 6-2.

B. Szeto and C. K. Chan beat S. A. Gray and G. C. Burnett, 6-3, 6-2.

J. J. Ferguson beat A. R. Kitchell, 5-7, 7-5, 6-3.

Lee Wai-tong beat A. Crawford, 6-4, 9-7.

he urged the people to cooperate and work hard to attain that goal.Great Britain and China are like brothers, both being democratic nations with peace-loving people.
General Wu went on to say.To ensure peace and prosperity in the Far East, General Wu is of the opinion that the two nations must co-operate, starting between

Of Trade And Exchange In Tientsin:
British, French Concessions ObstaclesJapan And Third Power
Aircraft

Tokyo, Sept. 2.

In order to clear up misunderstanding, a Foreign Office spokesman declared today that the Japanese forces would pay full attention to the safety of planes belonging to third powers as long as they specified their course and gave other advice and information required.Imperial Airways, it is claimed, completed with the Japanese request last February to follow a fixed course on their flights to Hong Kong. The result, it is stated, has been not a single unfortunate incident.It is emphasised that the Japanese forces have no intention of attacking any non-military Chinese plane as such, but are not in a position to guarantee their safety when they come within the zone of operation of the Japanese forces.—(Reuter).

DIFFICULTIES OF NEW CURRENCY

Tientsin, September 2.

Alarmist interpretations that have been current in various quarters concerning the Japanese orders for the withdrawal of their nationals from the British and French concessions here are deprecated by foreign official circles.Certain of these rumours associate this move with the "crisis" in Europe and there has been talk of the alleged intention of one party of the Japanese military authorities to request the withdrawal of the British and French garrisons from Tientsin.Usually well-informed foreign circles here, however, are inclined to believe that the Japanese action is designed to bring economic pressure to bear, in view of the present currency difficulties, and the
which the French and British control of trade and exchange to
which the French and British concessions present obstacles.Neutral circles regard the difficulties of the new currency
as inherent in the present situation owing to lack of reserves and Chinese control over the interior, where foreign bankers are powerless.It is pointed out that the series of cotton fires which imperilled foreign firms, where cotton is packed, were not limited to this British
